Argus Freight
Helping you to understand the true weight of freight
Shipping is the glue that binds markets together. It connects buyers and sellers across the globe, and is an integral part of each trade route and arbitrage.

Every seaborne commodity is exposed to the weight of freight – from crude oil to petroleum products, through to coal, metals, natural gas and more.

Robust pricing for every point of a seaborne trade

Volatility in freight rates can have a major influence on the delivered price of a product. When transportation costs change, trade flows, market share and margins can all be impacted. That is why it is important to have the right information at every point of a seaborne trade.

Argus Freight connects the dots by providing you with transparent pricing, market intelligence and unique tools to manage risk and identify the opportunities presented by freight.
What makes Argus prices recognised and respected by the industry?

Every day, Argus Freight is used in physical contracts, tenders and Import Parity Pricing, as well as to track arbitrages and run market analysis. This helps you to fully understand the true weight of freight.

Our price assessments follow robust and consistent processes. We adhere to strict standards of compliance, ethics and business continuity, while regularly inviting third-party scrutiny.

All Argus Freight assessments use a market survey methodology, which allows our global team of experts to get input from vital industry sources, including; shipbrokers, charterers, shipowners and traders. All-day assessments with regional time-stamps provide you with the most accurate and relevant freight prices across the globe.

Argus Freight gives market participants the tools to manage their exposure to freight, spot opportunities and make informed business decisions.
