

Argus Pipe Logix Line Pipe Service

The Argus Pipe Logix Line Pipe Service is the premier resource for participants in the line pipe market. The service provides access to essential industry reference prices, top-tier reports, market insights, fundamental data and news pertinent to the line pipe market.

| Home of the Pipe Logix Index – the industry standard for line pipe pricing

The Pipe Logix Line Pipe Index is the most widely used price assessment published by any pricing service for line pipe. Used by the largest participants in the line pipe market, we uniquely pair decades of historical pricing trends of the industry-leading Pipe Logix Index with data-driven insights and expert analysis into accurate outlooks and forecasts.

| Line pipe market coverage and delivery

Price assessments

The monthly Argus Line Pipe Price Guide covers 36 categories of imported and domestic line pipe used in US gathering lines. Covered grades include:

- X52
- X42
- X65

We publish the Pipe Logix Line Pipe Index, the import Line Pipe Index and the domestic Line Pipe Index, all of which are used to settle sales contracts by the largest participants in the US line pipe market. The report provides averages over the past three months for each item.

Historical data

Access 15+ years of historical line pipe price data with the Argus Line Pipe Service through the innovative Argus Direct® platform.

Industry news and market moving commentaries

Published in real time through the Argus Direct® client portal, our expert team of metals market reporters are publishing the latest news stories and commentaries from across the line pipe market.

Argus Line Pipe Outlook

The Argus Line Pipe Outlook is a quarterly report that compiles and analyses important line pipe market data to help you identify correlations and perform trend analysis that is critical to your business. The four issues provide a comprehensive view of current line pipe prices, supply and demand trends through analysing domestic supply, imports, line pipe construction activity, raw material price trends and other critical drivers to the line pipe industry.

Line Pipe Price Forecasts

The complexity of the line pipe market necessitates expert analysis for accurate forecasts. The fourth-quarter issue of the Argus Line Pipe Outlook features a Line Pipe Price Forecast for the coming year. Built by Argus line pipe market experts with years of experience, our data-driven insights are critical to ensuring strategic decision making and optimising profitability.

Instant access via Argus Direct® Workspaces

Argus Direct® brings to life the data, news and analysis that we publish, ensuring you have the latest insights at your fingertips. This interactive and immersive platform enables you to access our insights with the help of dynamic dashboards, innovative tools and PDF publications. Customise your dashboard with real-time market news, charts, assessments and derived prices with our intuitive drag-and-drop interface.

Explore the Argus Pipe Logix Line Pipe Service further at www.argusmedia.com/en/solutions/products/argus-line-pipe

Key features

Monthly price assessments delivered on the first business day of each month.

Independent and transparent market-appropriate methodology.

A complete view of the line pipe market – price, sentiment, forecast and fundamentals.

Delivery options: Argus Direct®, FTP, API, Excel add-in or email.

Customers that benefit:

The Argus Pipe Logix Line Pipe Service is essential for all participants involved in the line pipe supply and demand chain. Below are some examples of how clients use this service:

Line pipe and steel mills

Use our assessments in contracts, as well as for calculations and adjustment factors for official selling prices.

Pipe distributors

Identify opportunities for better margins. The accuracy and transparency of our indexes are a decisive tool in helping clients determine at what prices they should buy from suppliers and sell to end-users.

Energy companies

Utilise our price data in the procurement of tubulars to guide strategy. Supply chain and category managers use our price assessments when negotiating contracts for programme purchases and our historical data to identify beneficial pricing trends.

Financial institutions and analysts

Rely on our line pipe market analysis to aid in your coverage and investment decisions in publicly traded mills. Be assured that our assessments are impartial and reliable indicators of the line pipe industry.

Our methodology:

Argus Pipe Logix Line Pipe prices are underpinned by the most robust, transparent and credible methodology, developed with the industry to ensure our price assessments are a true reflection of the US line pipe spot market.

Explore the Argus Pipe Logix Line Pipe Service further at www.argusmedia.com/en/solutions/products/argus-line-pipe